The Committee, taking into consideration the need to allow greater participation of larger number of Member States in the work of the Follow-up Committee agreed that, in addition to the members of the Bureau, three Member States, one from each geographical region, would be elected to the Follow-up Committee at the Fourth Session of the COMCEC, thus increasing the size of the Follow-up Committee to ten Member States. Every two years, a new election would be held for these three new seats. The outgoing new regional representatives would be eligible for re-election.

ALTERNATE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMCEC

Fourth Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC

Istanbul, 6-8 April 1988

Honourable Members of the Follow-up Committee,

I would like to welcome the distinguished delegations attending the Fourth Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC and extend my Government's best wishes for successful deliberations and a pleasant stay in Istanbul.

I would also like to express my great pleasure and satisfaction in observing that the COMCEC resolutions have been rapidly implemented and tangible results have already been achieved, especially in the field of trade among the Member States. The willingness of the Member States and the effective role that the Islamic Development Bank, the General Secretariat and the subsidiary organs of OIC are playing in the implementation of the decisions of the COMCEC deserve to be commended in this regard.

I am sure that the measures you will recommend in this meeting will lead to the effective implementation of the projects of economic cooperation on the agenda, which would help mobilize economic resources in the member countries in line with the principle of comparative advantages and through unrestrained operation of market forces as the most reliable avenue to welfare and prosperity.

I wish once again every success to the esteemed Committee in its deliberations.

Turgut Özal

Prime Minister of the Republic of Turkey,
Alternate Chairman of the COMCEC
OPENING STATEMENT BY H.E. DR. YUSUF BOZKURT ÖZAL
MINISTER OF STATE OF THE REPUBLIC OF TURKEY
CHAIRMAN OF THE FOLLOW-UP COMMITTEE

Fourth Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC

Istanbul, 6-8 April 1988

Your Excellencies,
Honourable Guests,

It is a distinct pleasure for me to open this Fourth Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC. On behalf of the Turkish Government and on my own behalf, I am equally pleased to welcome you all, once again in Turkey. It makes me feel happy and proud to be taking part in the work of the COMCEC since its inception, first presiding over the Senior Officials Sessions and now as the Chairman of this esteemed Committee.

It is needless to say that, with each passing day the COMCEC is increasing its supervisory role on the implementation of the Plan of Action and thus becoming a notable forum for economic and commercial cooperation activities within the Organization of the Islamic Conference. Under the auspices of the COMCEC, these activities have not only picked momentum, but, through regular meetings in an orderly fashion, concrete results began to be achieved within a very short span of time.

Here, it would be only unfair not to mention the unique role this Follow-up Committee plays in the achievement of the goals set in the Plan of Action. I said unique role because this Committee not only pursues the implementation of the resolutions of the COMCEC but, in fact, formulates all kinds of new ideas and turns them into recommendations so as to assist the COMCEC in laying out the strategy of ever-expanding economic cooperation among the member countries.

The recommendations adopted during the Second and Third Meetings of this Follow-up Committee were approved unanimously by the Member States at the Third Session of the COMCEC last September, and the Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers at its 17th Session a week ago, was apprised of the resolution of the COMCEC, as directed by the Fifth Islamic Summit.

I thus feel proud, as Chairman of the Follow-up Committee, to see the link of communication being established between this Committee and the other fora of the OIC, and through it with the entire Islamic World.
Your Excellencies,

Distinguished Delegates,

Apart from the assessment of the developments related to the implementation of the decisions adopted by the COMCEC since its First Session, our Agenda includes two important tasks assigned to our Committee by the Third Session of the COMCEC. The first of these tasks is to evaluate the Draft Framework Agreement and the Draft Declaration on Trade Preferential System among OIC Member States, which we call, in short, TPSOIC. Our second task is to work out a methodology for the renewal of the Members of the Bureau of the COMCEC.

As you would recall, during the Third Session of the COMCEC, the Member States could not reach a conclusion on the method of renewal of the members of the Bureau. Taking into account the structure of the Follow-up Committee, which is composed of the members of the said Bureau, and the importance of this Committee as an essential body for the conduct of the coordination and follow-up activities within the framework of the COMCEC, the Member States decided that in order to have sufficient time to examine various aspects of this question and to provide continuity in the work of the Follow-up Committee before reaching a final decision on the issue, the present members of the Bureau of the COMCEC be kept unchanged until the Fourth Session of the COMCEC.
However, the State of Kuwait, in view of her status as the current Chairman of the Fifth Islamic Summit Conference, was included in the Bureau of the COMCEC to serve as the fifth Vice-Chairman until the Sixth Islamic Summit Conference, and today we are deeply honoured by the presence of our dear brother from Kuwait in this Committee.

Distinguished Delegates,

Dear Brothers,

Other items on our Agenda mostly relate to the studies concerning the tasks assigned by the COMCEC to the relevant OIC organs. Here I would like to thank the Islamic Development Bank and the Casablanca Centre for their valuable efforts in convening two successful expert group meetings on the issues they have been assigned by the COMCEC.

Your Excellencies,

Distinguished Guests,

As you may recall, the previous sessions of the COMCEC have been held concurrently with ministerial meetings. This time will be no exception and the Fourth Session of the COMCEC in September 1988 will be held concurrently with the First Ministerial Meeting on Communications.

With this new field of cooperation, 5 of the priority areas of economic cooperation in the Plan of Action will have been covered under the auspices of the COMCEC. There is every reason to hope that this Ministerial Meeting will also provide new opportunities for strengthening economic and commercial cooperation and achieving beneficial results for the Member Countries.

I would like to conclude my statement by wishing you all the success in your important work.

Dr. Yusuf Bozkurt ÖZAL

Minister of State
STATEMENT OF MR. A.K.M. FAROOQ, DIRECTOR (ECONOMIC AFFAIRS) OF THE ORGANIZATION OF ISLAMIC CONFERENCE ON THE OCCASION OF THE FOURTH MEETING OF THE FOLLOW-UP COMMITTEE OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE FOR ECONOMIC AND COMMERCIAL COOPERATION
( C O M C E C )

Istanbul, Republic of Turkey
April 6-8, 1988

Mr. Chairman,
Excellencies,
Distinguished Delegates,
Dear Brothers,

Assalamu Alaikum Wa-Rahmatullahi Wa-Barakatuh.

I deem it a great privilege and honour for me to address the Fourth Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation of the Organization of the Islamic Conference. Allow me Mr. Chairman, at the very outset, to convey the profound gratitude and best wishes of H.E. Syed Sharifuddin Pirzada, Secretary General of the Organization of the Islamic Conference to H.E. President Kenan Evren, the Chairman of the Standing Committee for his keen personal interest in promoting economic and commercial cooperation among the QIC Member States and his abiding commitment to the socio-economic progress and collective wellbeing of the Islamic Ummah. I would also like to express, on behalf of the General Secretariat and on my own behalf, our thanks and appreciation to the Government of Turkey for convening this important meeting in this beautiful and historic city of Istanbul and for the traditional warm hospitality extended to all of us since our arrival.
Mr. Chairman,

The Three Sessions of the COMCEC, held in 1984, 1986 and 1987 had achieved encouraging results in translating the broad outlines of the Plan of Action into concrete programmes and projects of mutual cooperation and prompted Member States to adopt measures to boost their economic and commercial exchanges. The present meeting is meant to review the progress so far realised in the implementation of the decisions adopted during the previous Sessions of the COMCEC as well as to formulate appropriate recommendations and strategies for the fourth Session of the Standing Committee to be held in September this year. Your gathering today is a testimony to the ardent desire of all of us to share our experiences by joining hands in an environment of mutual confidence.

Developments on the world economic situation during the past year has been particularly detrimental to the economies of the Islamic countries. It has been marked by a drastic fall in the value of the dollar which has resulted in the lowering of the value of foreign exchange holdings of most of the Islamic countries thus reducing their ability to import essential requirements. Simultaneously, the economies of most of the Islamic countries continue to suffer the adverse effects of reduced aid flows and increasing costs of debt servicing, low prices of their exportable commodities, rising walls of protectionism in the industrialised world and increasingly adverse terms of trade.
These adverse global economic indicators only serve to underline and emphasise the importance of the efforts exerted by the Member States of the Organization of Islamic Conference in increasing and expanding economic contacts and cooperation amongst themselves with a view to promoting their socio-economic development as well as to protect their economies from the vicissitudes and vagaries of the international economic climate.

The comprehensive progress report submitted by the General Secretariat at this meeting contains a summary of achievement of the Standing Committee in the attainment of the tasks entrusted to it by the Third Islamic Summit and reiterated by the Fourth and the Fifth Islamic Summits. The activities of the General Secretariat of the Organization of Islamic Conference were also devoted to following up the implementation of the various Ministerial Conferences on Trade held in November 1984, on Food and Agriculture in March 1985, on Industry in June 1987, and on Transport in September 1987. I am pleased to note that the Government of Pakistan has decided to host the next Ministerial Meeting on Food and Agriculture in Islamabad in November 1988. The Standing Committee will also be convening the First Ministerial Meeting on Communications in September 1988 in Istanbul concurrently with the Fourth Session of the COMCEC. This meeting of the Follow-up Committee will also consider the draft agenda for the First Ministerial Conference on Communications which, I am confident, will give emphasis to the importance of cooperation among Member States in this vitally important sector as an essential corollary of cooperation in other fields.
The Agenda of this Follow-up Meeting includes a number of important subjects such as Trade Preferential System among OIC Countries (TPSOIC) and Trade Information Network, prepared by the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade, while the progress on the studies of the Export Credit Guarantee Scheme and the Multilateral Islamic Clearing Union, undertaken by the Islamic Development Bank will also be presented here. All these subjects are of fundamental importance in the pursuit of our implementation of the Plan of Action. In this context, I would like to mention that the establishment of the Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme under the Islamic Development Bank is one of the significant achievements in the activities of COMCEC. As you all are aware, this Scheme is aimed at the active promotion of non-traditional exports among the Member States of the Organization of Islamic Conference. I would therefore like to urge those Member States which have not yet participated in this scheme to do so at an early date and also to contribute to the capital of the Islamic Development Bank so as to enable it to effectively perform its role for the benefit of the Islamic Ummah.

Mr. Chairman,

I am also happy to inform you that the Agreement on Promotion, Protection and Guarantee of Investments in Member States has now been signed and ratified by the required number of Ten Member States and the Agreement has therefore came into force in February '8
This important Agreement will undoubtedly assist the free flow of capital among the Member States and will also encourage and promote joint venture projects in the various sectors of the economies of our Member States. I would also request you to urge the Member States which have not yet signed and/or ratified this Agreement to do so at an early date in order for us all to equally benefit from the implementation of this Agreement.

May I once again thank you for your gracious presence. We express our deep appreciation to the Government and the brotherly people of the Republic of Turkey for the excellent arrangement made for this Follow-up Committee Meeting of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation.

May Allah the Almighty bless us in our noble tasks.

WASSALAMU ALAIKUM WA-RAHMATULLAHI WA-BARAKATUH.

With regard to the status Report on the Islamic Cement Association, it may be mentioned that upon a Turkish proposal to amend its Statute to become a non-Governmental institution, the Conference decided that if the present situation continues, Member States may approach each other for possible further cooperation in this field.

Regarding the Status Report on the "Islamic States Telecommunications Union" and the Islamic Civil Aviation Council,' the 17th Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers requested the General Secretariat to continue its efforts urging Member States to join these bodies.

Similarly, relating to the "Agreement on Promotion, Protection and Guarantee of Investments among Member States" and the General Agreement for Economic, Technical and Commercial Cooperation among Member States" the Conference requested the General Secretariat to urge Member States who have not yet signed and or ratified the above to Agreements, to do so as early as possible and to report to the next Conference of Foreign Ministers on their developments.

The 17th Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers further requested the General Secretariat to prepare and circulate a comprehensive note relating to the proposal to amend the charter of the Islamic Foundation for Science and Technology and Development (IFSTAD) to the Member States for their comments on the understanding that the matter will be considered by the 18th Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers.

13. The Resolutions of the 17th Islamic Conference of Foreign Ministers will be circulated shortly to the Member States and concerned agencies for implementation.

14. The foregoing gives an outline of the Economic activities undertaken by the Organisation of Islamic Conference. It further shows significant benefits that have accrued from mutual cooperation since the adoption of the Plan of Action as well as the setting up of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation.
The Member States of the Organization of the Islamic Conference:

vi. The System shall not prejudice any legal obligations of the Member States vis-a-vis third parties.

2. DECIDE that a Framework Agreement based on the above principles be prepared to determine the negotiating approaches, rules and methodology for the establishment and operation of the System.

He also recalled the different actions carried out by ICDT in implementation of its work programme, notably in the field of trade promotion and training.

Finally, he expressed on behalf of all the participants, his deep gratitude to His Majesty the King HASSAN II, for the solicitude he has always shown to the OIC and its specialised organ in the field of trade cooperation, especially to the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade.

Election of the bureau and adoption of the agenda:

9. Upon the proposal made by the delegation of the Republic of Turkey, Dr. Driss ALAOUI MDAGHRI, Director of the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade was elected to chair the meeting.

10. The meeting adopted the proposed agenda slightly amended.

The agenda is in annex II.

Introductory observations:

11. Under this agenda item, the Director of ICDT recalled the different resolutions adopted by the COMCEC on Trade Information Network, laying stress on those adopted at the second and third sessions of the COMCEC and the recommendations adopted at the meeting of the Expert Group in Izmir.

The Director of ICDT has also recalled the mandate of the Ad Hoc Experts Contact Group which was composed of "experts of interested Member States, the ICDT, the IDB, the SESRTCIC, the 1CCICE and which was entrusted with the task of the preparation of the revised version of the feasibility study "

Dr. Driss ALAOUI MDAGHRI has also recalled the principles adopted at the Izmir Meeting to guide the creation of an efficient Trade Information Network for Islamic Countries. According to these principles:
a) The network to be established should be decentralised at the levels of both data collection and dissemination, in order to derive maximum advantage of the existing capacities within the OIC.

b) Necessary data should be collected, evaluated and disseminated by utilizing to the maximum extent the existing storage and communication facilities within the OIC.

c) The network should be developed among Member Countries through stages of a step-by-step approach that would initially cover those countries, able and willing to participate in the system which, in its final stage of development, would be extended to all the Member Countries.

d) The ICDT would act as the coordinating center, in close cooperation with Member Countries and other relevant organs of the OIC and other international organisations during the establishment and operation of the network.

Consideration of the summary and conclusions relating to questionnaires disseminated to Member States:

12. Under this agenda item, the representative of ICDT made a comprehensive and detailed presentation on the computer facilities and data bases existing in those Member States which answered the questionnaires, as well as on the available telecommunications means in the light of the exhaustive investigation led by ICDT in the OIC Member States. The representatives of Turkey and Tunisia declared that their countries were willing to appoint one of their organisations to assume the role of regional centre and offered their assistance in implementing the network.

The document compiled on the basis of the answers given by Member States to the questionnaire circulated to them is in annex III.

Evaluation of computer facilities, data bases and telecommunication means existing LD Some Organisations of the OIC:

13. Under this agenda item, the representatives of the Islamic Development Bank, the Statistical, Economic and Social Research and Training Centre for Islamic Countries, the Islamic Chamber, the Islamic Centre for Development of Trade made presentations on their evaluation of the various aspects of this issue and on their experience in this field and their available information means.

14. The representative of the Islamic Development Bank presented the ICINET project which is now being studied by the IDB/IRTI. He defined the ICINET as a hardware and a software. As a hardware, ICINET is a physical medium providing means of communication between users in OIC Member Countries and OIC specialised institutions. In this sense, ICINET is viewed as a means of transmitting messages, transferring data files and other services between users in Member Countries. From the users point of view, ICINET could be considered as a physical communication medium. The representative of IDB pointed out that TINIC network as specified will not entail work duplication and confirmed the will of the Islamic Development Bank to cooperate with ICDT and other interested organisations for the early implementation of ICINET.

15. The representative of the Statistical, Economic and Social Research and Training Centre for Islamic Countries (SESRTCIC) has presented a report on the Centre's data collection, manipulation and dissemination activities. After giving a brief history of computer applications, the representative of the Centre informed the meeting that the Centre is connected to Telenet which was one of the most important networks in the world, through the packet switching network facilities of Turkey. He also gave a brief description on computer hardware and software endowment of the Centre. He also informed the meeting that the Centre has access to the data banks of international organisations such as the IMF, the World Bank, through regular updates of the data tapes. He concluded his presentation by giving information on data bases created by the staff in the Centre.

16. The representative of the Islamic Chamber commended the idea of establishing a Trade Information Network for Islamic Countries (TINIC) and declared his confidence that its setting up will constitute an important step forward in bilateral and multilateral trade promotion. He added that the Islamic Chamber was not endowed yet with computerized information systems and the establishment of TINIC will enable the Islamic Chamber to obtain and disseminate information at any time to its members and according to their needs.
17. The Director of ICDT made a presentation on the action of the Centre within the framework of trade information. He specified that ICDT had built up a documentation unit and a library specialised in inter-Islamic and international trade including publications sent by Member States, the OIC organs and international organisations and institutions. The information available at the Centre mainly concern foreign trade statistics, foreign trade regulations, market studies, trade agreements and the directories of foreign trade operators.

The Director also indicated that the ICDT has also carried out the dissemination of these information by mail, telex and through its publications, namely, annual report, and a specialised magazine Tijaris issued every other month).

He pointed out that the Centre has been provided with computer and equipments: 1 micro-computer HP modem, 4 Mackintosh micro-computers, a laser printer and image writer.

The Director finally indicated that the ICDT has concluded cooperation agreements with different organisations: the UNCTAD, the GATT, the Al Saoud Foundation and the National Documentation Centre of Morocco. It has also established contacts with trade promotion organisations and State Trading Organisations of the OIC Member States. In this connection, the Centre has organised periodical meetings with these organisations every other year.

Consideration of the revised Feasibility Study on Trade Information Network for Islamic Countries:

18. Under this agenda item, ICDT made a comprehensive presentation on the revised feasibility study on Trade Information Network for Islamic Countries (TINIC). After giving a historical account of the project, the document gave indications on the users of the network, the nature of information to be acquired, namely, data storage and the planned data banks.

The study also dealt with the network's structure which will be decentralised in compliance with the recommendations of the experts group which met in Izmir and which will rely on national antennae and regional centres. The TINIC network will also have a Coordinating Centre which will be the ICDT in Casablanca.

It was emphasized that at the level of the financial implications and in pursuance of the recommendations of the Izmir meeting, the decentralised structure was by far the least expensive.

The revised feasibility study on TINIC is in annex IV of this report.

19. At the end of this presentation, all the participants commended ICDT for the quality of its work carried out to revise the feasibility study.

Besides, the participants have fruitfully exchanged their points of views with the main aim of expediting the process of the network's setting up. This exchange of points of views had ended with the following conclusions:

a) Cooperation between ICDT and IDB: in view of the complementarities between the TINIC and ICINET, the participants agreed on the need for close cooperation between ICDT and IDB;

b) Calendar of the project execution: the participants convinced of the necessity of the network expressed the wish for its setting up at the earliest. They entrusted ICDT with establishing a timing taking into account the other projects, notably the ICINET project which was being studied by the IDB and the ARISNET project decided within the framework of the Arab League. They encouraged the interested organisations to carry on and develop their works notably those relating to the setting up of the proposed data banks.

c) Focal point: the participants agreed on the necessity of having national focal points. In this regard, they recognised the importance and usefulness of defining the choice criteria of these focal points and invited each Member State to appoint one or several focal points according to its needs and the requirements of the Islamic Organisations.

d) Regional Centres: the participants have considered that the specialised centres or national focal points and organisations of OIC could play the role of regional centres. They also considered that the focal points could meet this need in some areas if necessary. In any case, the existence of these centres should not prevent the focal points from communicating directly.

e) Back up Centres: to ensure high and consistent performance of any information system among Islamic Countries, the idea of Bao. up Centers was recommended. Each two of ICDT, IRTI and SESRTCIC would be the Back up Centres for the third.

f) Financial implications : the participants while considering that the financial aspect of TINIC should be fully evaluated, agreed to submit the issue to the fourth meeting of the COMCEC Follow up Committee.

Motion of thanks :

20. The meeting addressed its thanks to the Government and the People of the Kingdom of Morocco for its sustained support and help and the facilities accorded to it for the holding of the meeting of the Ad Hoc Experts Contact Group.

The participants entrusted the Director of ICDT, in his capacity as Chairman of the meeting to convey a message of gratitude to His Majesty King HASSAN II of Morocco.

The meeting congratulated the Chairman for the excellent manner he conducted the meeting which ensured its success.

Besides, the meeting extended its warm thanks to the staff of the Centre for the excellent arrangements made for the meeting.

Adoption of the report :

21. The meeting adopted the report which will be submitted along with the annexes by ICDT to the fourth meeting of the COMCEC Follow up Committee to be held on 6 - 8 April 1988, in Istanbul.
BACKGROUND

1. The First Session of COMCEC, 21-23 Safar 1405H (14-16 November 1984) in Istanbul, under the Chairmanship of His Excellency President Kenan Evren of the Republic of Turkey, recommended that a group of experts from interested OIC Member States should be convened under the auspices of the IDB, with the participation of the relevant OIC and other Islamic financial institutions for the purpose of examining, on Islamic principles, the feasibility of establishing:

   (a) Longer Term Trade Financing Facilities;
   (b) A Regional Export Credit Guarantee Scheme; and
   (c) A Multilateral Islamic Clearing Union.

2. The Longer Term Trade Financing Scheme has already been operational and a study is currently being pursued on a Multilateral Islamic Clearing Union.

3. At the Third session of COMCEC held in Istanbul in September 1987, the IDB presented a paper entitled, Detailed Study on the Establishment of an Export Credit and Guarantee Insurance Scheme for the OIC Member Countries. COMCEC recommended that "the study be further reviewed by a meeting of technical experts directly involved in the field of export credit guarantee, to be convened by the IDB. The meeting of the said experts will be entrusted with working out the mechanics of a scheme that is operationally feasible and consistent with Islamic Sharia".
4. In response to this recommendation, the IDB invited all the OIC member countries to nominate experts to attend a meeting at the IDB. Also invited to the meeting were the OIC, the COMCEC Coordination Office, the Fiqh Academy and the Inter-Arab Investment Guarantee Corporation, as well as a number of distinguished scholars on Islamic jurisprudence.

5. The meeting was held at IDB Headquarters in Jeddah, during 6-7 Jumad Thani, 1408H (25-26 January, 1988). A total of 65 participants from 29 countries and three institutions attended the meeting. A list of the participants is attached to this report.

6. In his opening address, the President of IDB thanked the participants for accepting the invitation of the Bank and warmly welcomed them to the institution. He felt that the meeting would provide yet another opportunity, by way of joint Islamic action, to bring together the various sides of the Islamic Ummah to serve their joint and common interests. He said that, despite some progress achieved in intra-trade among the OIC member countries, there was vast potential that needed to be developed. The address also summarized the historical background for the meeting and expressed the hope that Allah would guide the impending deliberations toward producing fruitful results for the benefit of the Muslim Ummah.
7. The Deputy Head of the COMCEC Coordinating Office reciprocated the views expressed by the President and hoped that the deliberations of the meeting would prove successful and add yet another dimension in strengthening the existing cooperation in various fields of activities among the Muslim countries. He praised the excellent paper that the IDB staff had prepared.

8. The participants unanimously elected the President of IDB to chair the meeting.

DISCUSSIONS AND DEBATE

9. After summary presentation of the study which was one of three documents sent to the participants, they observed that the IDB study was thorough, detailed and well prepared.

The link between investment and export credit insurance

10. Participants took note of Article 15 of the Agreement for the Promotion, Protection and Guarantee of Investment among Member States of the OIC which states that:

"The Organisation shall through the Islamic Development Bank, and in accordance with the provision of its Agreement, establish as a Subsidiary organ of the Organization, an Islamic Institution for the Guarantee of Investment which is to take charge of the insurance of funds invested in the territories of the contracting parties, in accordance with this Agreement and in conformity to the principles of Islamic Sharia."

11. Some participants advised that the proposed scheme should be confined to only export credit insurance. Some of the experts were of the opinion that investment insurance was very different from export credit insurance and, therefore, the two types of insurance need not be combined within the operations of one institution. Others felt that the scheme should cover investment insurance as well, because both functions have insurance as their common denominator and would satisfy the provision of the Agreement (mentioned above) as well as the aspirations of COMCEC to establish an export credit guarantee scheme. Moreover, since the resolutions adopted by the 14th and 15th meetings of the Foreign Ministers of OIC member countries were opposed to setting up fresh OIC organs, both export and investment insurance could be undertaken at the same time, through the institution that the OIC Foreign Ministers had earlier agreed could be established under Article 15 of the Agreement for the Promotion, Protection and Guarantee of Investment. The Deputy Head of COMCEC «felt that the participants should concentrate their discussion on export credit insurance and work out proposals that could be submitted to the next session of COMCEC.

12. The participants discussed the advantages of different alternatives especially in relation to:

(a) Confinement of the system to export credit insurance only.
(b) Extending the system to include export credit and investment insurance.

Following discussion it was deemed advisable to establish an organisation that would be initially responsible for insuring export credit. Based on the experience gained and in the light of the results of relevant studies supporting feasibility, such an organisation will, in due course, engage in investment insurance besides other operations carried out under this system.

13. It was agreed that the recommendation of the experts group would be to leave this issue of separate or composite institutions to the CGhCEC to decide. In this connection, the choice to be exercised by COMCEC would arise from the relative priorities that the Ministers may attach to either of the two objectives of export promotion or investment promotion. Therefore, the relative weights or importance attached to either objectives would then determine the nature of the institution that would be selected for implementation. In this regard, the experts identified three alternative options, as follows:

(a) The scheme may offer insurance exclusively for export credits; or

(b) The scheme may cover both investment insurance and export credit insurance; or

(c) The scheme may start with export credit insurance and could, at some later date broaden its scope of operations to cover investment insurance.

14. The nature of the scheme that is to be implemented would determine its title. Therefore, the Participants suggested that the final title of the scheme would depend on which of the above alternative schemes is selected by the COMCEC.
15. One other issue was related to difficulty the scheme would have in obtaining reinsurance facilities. It was hoped that, although this could be a problem at the earlier stages, this could be resolved in due course, beginning with the reinsurance services that are now available from Islamic reinsurance companies and some of other reinsurance companies willing to cooperate with the scheme.

Level of premiums, underwriting capacity and Capital requirements the Scheme

16. The representative of the Bank briefed the participants on the salient features of these issues.

(i) Level of premiums

17. Here the main issue was whether there should be a uniform rate of premium to be charged or, depending upon political and economic health, countries should be grouped under categories of the respective premiums to be charged. After a very lengthy discussion of this matter, the consensus was that the premiums charged must be competitive and moderate. In the interest of Islamic solidarity, premium rates must be uniform for political risks but would vary for commercial risks, based on the mode and period of payment.

(ii) Underwriting capacity

18. As regards the capital of the scheme, there was a suggestion of having commitments of as low as 5 times the capital and free reserves of the institution. However, the general opinion was that the commitments of the scheme must, in the initial stages, be 10 times the initial capital and free reserves of the scheme. The level of commitments could eventually be increased to 15 or 20 times of the scheme's capital and free reserves, after the scheme has gained experience over a period of 5 to 6 years or even more.

(iii) Capital requirements

19. Participants tended toward favouring the capital of the scheme to be I.D. 100 million, with half of it coming from IDB's contribution.

20. Some participants felt that the private sector should be involved. In this regard, member states would be at liberty to encourage financial institution in the private and para-statal sectors, including Islamic financial institution, to subscribe to the capital of the scheme. Some experts suggested that, if IDB paid 50 percent of the capital, the private sector could contribute 25 percent and the governments would then be left to contribute the remaining 25 percent.

Issues concerning Sharia aspects of the Scheme

21. In his preliminary statement, Sheikh Mustafa Ahmad Zarqa observed that insurance could be considered as an essential need that is indispensable for the Muslim countries and without a sufficient amount of which, these countries cannot hope for any appreciable promotion of exports among themselves. He gave a summary of the recent evolution and conduct of the insurance business. He explained that the predominant view of Sharia scholars was that conventional insurance involves al-gharar and, therefore, is contrary to Islamic principles. There is general consensus among Sharia scholars that cooperative insurance is not only acceptable and righteous but also a duty for Muslims to establish such institutions for serving their general needs in economic and financial transactions. The cooperative insurance presented in the detailed study was accepted in principle and found to conform to Sharia.

22. Sheikh Zarqa supported the view that the proposed cooperative insurance scheme could undertake both export credit insurance and investment insurance and would still perfectly be acceptable under Sharia. Therefore, there would be no need to increase the number of institutions, whereas one would be sufficient for handling investment insurance, export credit insurance and also for reinsurance.

23. In his remarks, Sheikh Dareer concurred fully with the observations of Sheikh Zarqa. He then raised some questions about the translation of the English to the Arabic text of certain paragraphs that he identified. The necessary action would be taken to improve the correspondence in translations and the editing of the relevant paragraphs. These would be reflected in the revised detailed study that would be sent to each of the participants and, should they have any further suggestions, these would be reflected in a final version that would be transmitted to COMCBC for the consideration of the Ministers.

Al-gharar arises when, within a contract the consequences are not fully disclosed to any of the contracting parties.
24. Two points of view were advanced in relation to interest-bearing loans for export transactions:

(a) According to one view, interest-bearing loans cannot be covered by the insurance scheme;

(b) According to the other view, it is preferable that interest-bearing loans should not receive insurance coverage under the scheme. However, on grounds of exceptional necessity, the principal only may be insured, in light of the Sharia view that the principal remains, a legitimate right of the lender which he is entitled to recover.

25. Transactions (i.e., sales and purchases) of discounted bills should not be covered by the Scheme.

26. Commissions payable by non-Islamic reinsurance companies to Islamic companies in return for attracting customers are prohibited by Sharia.

27. In the light of the observations of the Sharia scholars and other participants, the appropriate amendments would be reflected in the final version of the Detailed Study on the Establishment of an Export Credit and Guarantee Insurance Scheme Among OIC Member Countries to be presented to COMCEC in its following meeting.
TEXT OF THE PRESENTATION OF A METHODOLOGY FOR THE HARMONISATION OF THE EXISTING STANDARDS IN THE ISLAMIC COUNTRIES AND THE PREPARATION OF COMMON STANDARDS

It will be recalled that the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference had, for the purpose of furthering the trade among Islamic countries, resolved in its first meeting held in Istanbul from 14 to 16 November 1984 to initiate a study on the eventual harmonisation of the standards currently in force in the Islamic countries and covering the goods and products subject to reciprocal trade between them.

The resolution adopted by the Ministers of Trade of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference commissioned the Turkish Standards institute to develop, in close cooperation with the agencies responsible for the standardisation work in the Islamic countries, a methodology which would render possible harmonisation of such standards and to distribute the draft to these agencies sufficiently in advance to permit it to be discussed during the Meeting of Standardisation Experts of the Islamic Countries in April 1985 in Istanbul. In this meeting, organised in Istanbul from 8 to 12 April 1985, working texts on a variety of matters dealing with the standards and standardisation, together with the draft methodology developed, were submitted for discussion to the standardisation experts of the Islamic countries. The draft model was approved \textit{grosso modo} in this meeting, and the recommendations to be laid before the Second Session of the Standing Committee were identified. Within the framework of these recommendations, it had been resolved,

- that the member countries of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference (OIC) cooperate in the field of standardisation in order to draw upon their respective experiences,

- that the standards implemented in the member countries be harmonised to the maximum level possible without jeopardizing the acceptable quality levels of the products, in order to ensure a regular improvement of the inter-Islamic trade,

- that the member countries of OIC arrange training programmes on the basis of information collected on the subject, taking into account their needs and capabilities as well as the resources available,

- that a study be launched to formulate the methods for exchange of information, that guidelines be developed for the harmonisation of certification procedures, and that a Coordination Committee consisting of the members of the Bureau of the First Meeting of Standardisation Experts of the Islamic Countries assume the activities required for the implementation of the above.

The above recommendations to the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC were approved in the second meeting of the latter which requested that the necessary work should be performed and that a methodology should be formulated for the harmonisation of the standards in force in the member countries.

Upon approval of the establishment of a Coordinating Committee of the Standardisation Experts Group of the Islamic countries by the COMCEC, it was suggested that it would be more appropriate that the draft methodology should be conceived as a joint product of the Coordinating Committee instead of solely of the Turkish Standards Institute. Based upon this approach, the draft methodology prepared for the harmonisation of the existing standards of the Islamic countries was finalised in three meetings, of which two were held in Istanbul and one organised in Ankara. Contribution was provided by the members of the Coordinating Committee on the work performed regarding the activities to be reported to the Standing Committee by the standardisation experts of the Islamic countries, and their instructions and comments were received for the orientation of these studies.

Within the framework of these activities, data were gathered on the training needs of the standardisation agencies of the Islamic countries and the means which they are able to place at the disposal of other member countries in this field, pilot work was initiated on the harmonisation efforts on basis of individual standards, draft standards so developed -albeit on a limited scale- were submitted to the perusal of other member countries of OIC, and intensification of the exchange of information and technical documentation was ensured.

The full and unrestricted implementation of the resolutions of the Standardisation Experts of the Islamic Countries will only be possible through the establishment of appropriate channels for the harmonisation of the standards in force in these countries, through the certification of all products and goods within an integrated system concept, through the organisation of joint training programmes, through the exchange of information and specialists and through technology transfer among the Islamic countries. All this requires, in turn, the setting into motion of an efficient organisation backed by knowledgeable and responsible staff with adequate technical skills and ability and supported by the Islamic community at large.

The attitude of the Standing Committee regarding the establishment of new agencies entailing additional financial burdens to the Islamic countries being known, we submit to you a proposal for an organisational structure sustaining itself with the fees to be received against services rendered in lieu of one which would require continuous budgetary allocations.

A major part of the revenues will be derived at the initial period from the certification of products and goods subject to the inter-Islamic trade. It should be recalled that the fees for these services are currently being paid to the certification and survey companies of developed countries. A mere rechanneling of these fees will enable the organisation which we will call, for practical reasons, the Standardisation Union of Islamic Countries, to cover its expenditures. Being a non-profit outfit, this organisation will be able to extend a far greater amount of service to the Islamic countries through its excess revenues and provide financial and technical support to the member countries which yet lack standardisation agencies.

The Turkish Standards Institute is proud to have been deemed worthy by such and august authority as the Standing Committee to be commissioned to develop a methodology permitting the harmonisation of the current standards of the Islamic countries. Our Institute has done everything possible to live up to the expectations of the Islamic community. In this connection, we would like to emphasize that a multi-faceted and broad-based collaboration on matters dealing with the standards and standardisation will be needed beyond a mere harmonisation of standards in order to ensure that the inter-Islamic trade develops at the desired pace. This can be achieved only through the efficient contributions of a strong organisation. If such an agency can be established and commissioned, we believe that it will be capable to sustain itself within a very short time through the fees it will be receiving for services rendered. As a logical corollary of its desire to perform an outstanding work in the tasks entrusted by your august body, our Institute is desirous and willing to furnish all required support for the genesis of such a body and hereby commits itself to cover all its operating costs until it becomes self-sustaining or for a period of up to three years.

Thank you.

WORKING PAPER ON THE ELECTION OF THE MEMBERS OF THE BUREAU OF THE COMCEC

I. PURPOSE

1. The purpose of this paper is to present some alternative methods for the renewal of the members of the Bureau of the COMCEC and for the directly related issue of the composition of the Follow-up Committee, with a view to facilitating the selection of the alternatives to be submitted to the Fourth Session of the COMCEC for final decision.

II. SCOPE

2. After an introductory chapter on the background and present situation of the question of the renewal of the Members of the Bureau of the COMCEC, some alternatives, thought to be feasible are explained below. Since the members of the Bureau of the COMCEC presently constitute its Follow-up Committee, the method to be adopted for the renewal of the members of the Bureau will have a direct bearing on the composition of the Follow-up Committee. Therefore, some alternatives regarding the composition of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC are given in a separate chapter.

3. The alternatives presented in this paper are by no means exhaustive. Variations on the alternative methods presented in the following pages, as well as the new ones, may be considered by the Follow-up Committee.

III. BACKGROUND

4. At the First Session of the COMCEC held on 14-16 November 1984 in Istanbul, the following Member States were elected to represent their respective geographical regions in the Bureau of the COMCEC:

First Vice-Chairman : Kingdom of Saudi Arabia to represent Arab Member States;

Second Vice-Chairman : Islamic Republic of Pakistan to represent Asian Member States;

Third Vice-Chairman : Republic of Guinea to represent African Member States;

Fourth Vice-Chairman : Palestine;

Rapporteur : Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan.

5. The COMCEC in its First Session also decided "...To establish a Follow-up Committee, at ministerial level, to assist the Chairman, supported by the Secretary General and composed of the Members of the Bureau of the Standing Committee..." (1)

(1) Resolution on Follow-up Activities of the COMCEC, Report of the First Session of the Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation of the
6. During its Second Session, held on 14-16 March 1986 in Istanbul, the COMCEC, with a view to maintaining continuity in the organization of its work, decided "... to keep the members of its Bureau, who were elected during its First Session, unchanged until the next Islamic Summit (the Fifth Islamic Summit Conference)." (2)

7. Following the Fifth Islamic Summit Conference, the question of the renewal of the members of the Bureau was raised during the Third Session of the COMCEC. At its Third Session, the COMCEC decided that the question of the renewal of the members of the Bureau should not be tackled before various aspects of the question and its implications for the follow-up mechanism were carefully studied.

8. According to the resolution adopted at the Third Session of the COMCEC, however, the Member State who holds the Sessional Chairmanship of the Islamic Summit Conference was included in its Bureau as a regular member. Thus, the State of Kuwait was included in the Bureau of the COMCEC to serve as the fifth Vice-Chairman until the Sixth Islamic Conference to be held in 1990 in Senegal.

9. At the same Session, the COMCEC assigned the Follow-up Committee with the task of determining feasible alternatives for the renewal of the Members of the Bureau, together with their implications for the follow-up mechanism, in a longer perspective, on the basis of a working paper to be prepared by the COMCEC Coordination Office. The final decision on the issue will be taken at the Fourth Session of the COMCEC to be held on 4-7 September 1988 in Istanbul.

IV. ALTERNATIVE METHODS FOR THE RENEWAL OF THE MEMBERS OF THE BUREAU

10. In view of the fact that Turkey and Palestine are permanent Members of the Bureau and that Kuwait holds a Vice-Chairmanship in its capacity as the Sessional Chairman of the Fifth Islamic Summit, the alternative methods for the renewal of the members of the Bureau explained below will be applicable to three Vice-Chairmanships representing three geographical regions and to the Rapporteur.

11. Keeping the principle of geographical representation and assuming that the outgoing members of the Bureau would be eligible for re-election, some of the alternative methods for the renewal of the Member States representing three Vice-Chairmanships and the Rapporteur are explained below:

   a) At the end of every two years, one of the member states representing three geographical regions in the Bureau may be replaced by another member state from the same region by election. The member state holding the post of the Rapporteur may also be replaced every two years, by election.

Assuming that the renewal will start with the African region at the Fourth Session of the COMCEC in September 1988, and that the African member states are symbolized by "AF", Asian Member States by "AS", Arab Member States by "AR" and the Rapporteur by "RP", the operation of this alternative until the eight Islamic Summit Conference in 1996 can be shown as follows:

<tr>

<th>Vice-Chairman Representing Asian Region</th>

b) The renewal explained in (a) above may be made every three years.
c) The renewal explained in (a) above may be made every year.

d) The member states representing three regions and the Rapporteur may be renewed simultaneously at the end of every two or three yearly periods that may be deemed appropriate.

V. ALTERNATIVE FOR THE FORMATION OF THE FOLLOW-UP COMMITTEE

12. The following are some of the alternatives which may be considered in relation to the formation of the Follow-up Committee:

a) The present practice, as decided at the First Session of the COMCEC, may be maintained; thus, the members of the Bureau, elected according to one of the methods explained in Chapter IV above, may continue to serve at the same time as the members of the Follow-up Committee.

b) The Follow-up Committee may be composed of the members of the Bureau, elected according to one of the methods explained in Chapter IV, plus the Rapporteur of other ministerial level meetings held in areas of economic cooperation indicated in the OIC Plan of Action, which fall under the competence of the COMCEC. In this case, each year with the holding of a ministerial meeting, a new member will be added to the Follow-up Committee until all relevant areas indicated in the OIC Plan of Action are covered.

c) The Bureau which may be formed for a given term may serve as the Follow-up Committee during the course of the next term. This alternative would be more relevant if the alternative for the renewal of the members of the Bureau explained in sub-para, (d) of para. 11 above is accepted.

To explain the alternative defined in sub-para, (c) above more clearly, it may be assumed, for example, that Bangladesh, U.A.E., Burkina Faso and Djibuti are elected to represent three geographical regions and the act as Rapporteur respectively, in the Bureau for a given term \((t_1)\), and that Malaysia, Tunisia, Comoros and Maldives are elected to represent the same for the next term \((t_2)\). The present alternative presupposes that during the term \(t_2\), the members of the Bureau elected for the term \(t_1\), namely Bangladesh, U.A.E., Burkina Faso and Djibuti, together with other permanent and ex-officio members, will serve as the Follow-up Committee, while Malaysia, Tunisia, Comoros and Maldives will constitute the Bureau of the COMCEC. The same pattern will be repeated for each consecutive term.
This model resembles the pattern followed for the Annual Meetings of the Board of Governors of the Islamic Development Bank (IDB). In IDB's case, the members of the Bureau of the Annual Meetings of the Board of Governors elected for a given term constitute the Procedures Committee during the next term to maintain continuity in matters pertaining to the organization and substance of the meetings.

VI. CONCLUSION

13. The alternative methods explained above for the renewal of the members of the Bureau of the COMCEC and for the formation of its Follow-up Committee are only a few of various alternatives that might be thought of in this regard. The Follow-up Committee may wish to recommend any of the alternatives explained in this paper, their variation, or completely new ones as it may deem appropriate, for consideration and approval of the COMCEC.

CHAIRMAN OF THE FOLLOW-UP COMMITTEE OF THE COMCEC

Fourth Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC

Istanbul, 8 April 1988

Your Excellencies,

Distinguished Delegates,

We have successfully completed another meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC. We owe this to your invaluable and most constructive contributions and sense of cooperation.

The recommendations contained in the report of our meeting will no doubt expedite the implementation of the remaining projects on the agenda of the COMCEC. All these recommendations concern the promotion of cooperation in the area of trade.

The adverse developments which took place in the world economy during recent years, despite erratic improvements, indicate the dire necessity of increasing the volume of trade among the member countries to prevent further worsening of their external payments positions.
In fact, an examination of the available data on the economies of the Member Countries reveals that the deterioration in their terms-of-trade and the continued fall in their foreign exchange earnings, increase the strains on their economies.

In this context of world economic affairs, the establishment of the Longer-Term Trade Financing Facility within the Islamic Development Bank, as a result of the implementation of a decision adopted at the First Session of the COMCEC, constitutes a source of satisfaction for us.

We have noticed during the meeting that the necessary groundwork for the implementation of most of the projects on the COMCEC agenda have almost been finalized by the relevant OIC institutions. It is my understanding that, regarding these projects, we have reached a stage where a final seal of approval by the governmental authorities of the Member States is needed for their actual implementation.

My personal thanks go to the distinguished directors and the staff of the OIC institutions for their contributions in undertaking the necessary studies for the implementation of these projects.

As a matter of fact, the experience of the COMCEC has once more shown that, without the expertise provided by the OIC institutions, and the capabilities of some of them to actually implement the projects, it would not have been going to achieve the concrete progress we have noted, during the meeting.

We should not, however, content ourselves with what we have achieved so far. We should continuously strive for new joint cooperation projects. This would not only lay the ground, however modest, for taking advantage of the existing complementarities between the economies of the Member Countries, but at the same time, would create an atmosphere of understanding amongst them, most urgently needed for Islamic solidarity in other world economic and financial fora.

Bearing this in mind, we should be open to any suggestions, coming from any member country, for economic cooperation projects which are feasible and most likely to attract the interests of the Member Countries irrespective of their political and economic structures.

Before concluding my remarks, I would like to thank you once more for your contributions to the success of this meeting and, on behalf of the People and the Government of Turkey I wish you a very happy and safe journey home.
