OPENING STATEMENT BY H.E. RIDVAN AĞAOĞLU, VICE PRESIDENT OF STRATEGY AND BUDGET OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENCY OF THE REPUBLIC OF TÜRKİYE

THIRTY EIGHTH MEETING OF THE FOLLOW-UP COMMITTEE OF THE COMCEC
(Ankara, 24 May, 2022)

As-Selamu Alaikum ve Rahmatullahi ve Berekatuhu,

Bismillahirrahmanirrahim.

Esteemed Members of the Follow-up Committee,

Distinguished Guests,

It is a great pleasure for me to meet with you on the occasion of the 38th Meeting of the Follow-up Committee of the COMCEC. I greet you all with the sincerest respect and the greetings of Allah.

Before I begin my words, I would like to share with you my deep sorrow over the passing of H.E. Sheikh Khalifa bin Zayed Al Nahyan, President of the United Arab Emirates and Emir of Abu Dhabi. I wish God's mercy on H.E. Sheikh Khalifa bin Zayed Al Nahyan, and convey my condolences to the brotherly people of the United Arab Emirates.

Unfortunately, we could not physically hold our meetings in 2020 and 2021 including the Follow-up Committee Meetings due to the COVID-19 Pandemic. Thankfully, this time we had the opportunity to host you in Ankara and come together as before the Pandemic.

I would like to stress at the outset that the work of the Follow-up Committee is critical for us as it reviews and monitors the implementation of the COMCEC resolutions, programs and projects, and sets the agenda of the COMCEC Ministerial Session.

Esteemed participants,

The global economy is passing through a sensitive period. The multifaceted damages of the Pandemic to the national economies due to reasons such as problems in global supply chains caused by supply-demand imbalances, high inflation caused by increases in commodity prices, and tightening trends in the monetary policies of developed countries have not completely lost their effect yet. In addition, the new epidemic measures, which are a reflection of the zero-case policy in China, and the political developments in our nearby geography are disrupting the global recovery process.

According to the World Bank, the last two years have seen the biggest rise in energy prices since the 1973 oil crisis. Prices for food products, of which Russia and Ukraine are major producers, and fertilizers, which rely on natural gas as a production input, have seen the largest increase since 2008.¹

The rising industrial and agricultural production costs, especially with the great increase in the prices of energy inputs such as oil and natural gas and agricultural inputs such as fertilizers, unfortunately, cause a global high inflation trend. It is of great importance for our countries to be prepared for the possibility of the global stagnation that may accompany the high inflation period following the Pandemic and to maximize cooperation. I hope that this high inflation trend will decline before long and that our countries will get through this period with the least loss.

What we have experienced during the Pandemic shows us how intertwined our economic and financial structure is globally.

In addition to the advantages brought by globalization, in the face of the disadvantages such as the rapid spread of the negativities among the countries, it becomes even more important to make use of the opportunities of international cooperation mechanisms.

Today's increasing global problems such as climate change, poverty, or migration cause different and unequal results from country to country and affect all countries at the same time. Therefore, the need for more effective, fair, and inclusive multilateralism and cooperation mechanisms is increasing to reach solutions to global problems and to develop together and rapidly.

¹ <https://www.worldbank.org/en/news/press-release/2022/04/26/food-and-energy-price-shocks-from-ukraine-war>

In this context, as the OIC family, we are aware of the advantage and potential brought by the distribution of member countries spread over a wide geography. The economic advantages of our member countries such as young population and workforce, dynamic national markets, capital structure and diverse product range constitute an important basis for increasing intra-OIC trade in many sectors. As a matter of fact, increasing the economic activities between our countries and developing intra-OIC trade has always been one of the most important targets of the COMCEC.

On this occasion, I would like to point out that in a process in which the COMCEC and all the OIC institutions in particular the IsDB contributed, with the admirable efforts of our member countries, intra-OIC trade has reached 20 percent in recent years, from its level of 11 percent in the 2000s. This is an important achievement for our Community showing our cooperation. As you all know, the new intra-OIC trade target that we set with the OIC 2025 Program adopted at the 13th Islamic Summit held in Istanbul in 2016 is 25 percent. In order to achieve this important goal, we must immediately establish the necessary mechanisms and strengthen our existing mechanisms.

In this context, I would like to express that I attach great importance to the progress made in the last few years regarding the Preferential Trade System between OIC Member States (TPS-OIC), which is the most important project of COMCEC in the field of trade and will contribute significantly to the increase of intra-OIC trade. Last year, important steps were taken towards the implementation of the System and the deadline for TPS-OIC to come into effect was determined as 1 July 2022.

Insha'Allah, by 1st July 2022, with the completion of the responsibilities of the countries party to the system, we will make TPS-OIC operational. I would like to express my deepest thanks and appreciation to all countries party to the system for their cooperation and efforts in bringing TPS-OIC to this stage. We hope that the implementation of the system will be a milestone for the start of a new era for our economic relations and the expansion of the existing commercial cooperation. On this occasion, I invite our countries that have not yet become a party to the System to join the TPS-OIC as soon as possible.

Distinguished Guests,

I would also like to mention the OIC Arbitration Center, another important project of COMCEC. As you kindly recall, the efforts made by our relevant institutions for the Center to become operational were welcomed at the last COMCEC Ministerial Meeting. The Board of Trustees and the Board of Directors, which are the administrative bodies of the Center, have been formed and they continue carrying out their functions. In this context, I invite the entire OIC family to support our new Center and to participate and contribute to the activities of the Center in the upcoming period.

I am also very pleased to share with you the good news that the product development studies initiated by the OIC Exchanges Forum 2 years ago within the scope of another important project, the OIC / COMCEC 50 Islamic Index, have been completed entirely. In this context, I invite our investors in the OIC member countries to invest in this special "International Investment Fund" established based on the Index I have mentioned.

Another important issue that I would like to mention is the issue of digital transformation, which we put on our agenda within the framework of the decision taken at the COMCEC Ministerial Meeting last year. As we are all aware, many activities have been transferred to the digital environment in the age of technology. We see that the rapid digitalization process experienced by the private sector, especially with the pandemic, is also reflected in the services provided by the public and official transactions. Because digital transformation enables the services offered to citizens to be faster and more integrated.

More effective provision of public services to our citizens and easier access of our companies to international markets in the digitalized world will be possible with an effective digital transformation process.

For all these reasons, I would like to emphasize the importance of sharing experience and cooperation between our countries on this important issue and express my sincere belief that we can seize important cooperation opportunities in this regard within the scope of the COMCEC.

Esteemed Members of the Follow-up Committee,

The COMCEC Working Groups successfully held the first round of 2022 meetings with the active participation of member countries and relevant OIC Organizations, as well as other international organizations and NGOs. Insha'Allah we will physically hold the second round of Working Group Meetings in September-October this year. I believe that the concrete policy recommendations and roadmaps to be developed at these meetings will contribute significantly to the cooperation efforts in the relevant fields in the coming period.

As you know, as COMCEC, we have been providing project-based financial support to OIC member countries and OIC institutions since 2014. In this regard, I am pleased to share with you that 18 projects were financed in 2021 and 17 projects were selected to be implemented in 2022. In addition, 8 projects were financed in 2021 within the scope of the COMCEC COVID Response Program (CCR), which we initiated in order to reduce the negative effects of the pandemic in OIC member countries. In 2022, we will provide financial support to 7 more projects. I would like these supports to contribute to taking the cooperation and solidarity within the OIC family one step further. Within the framework of the Al-Quds Programme, to which we attach great importance, 5 concrete projects continue to be implemented in the fields of tourism, culture and capacity building. Through these projects, we hope to contribute to increasing the economic welfare of Al-Quds, the apple of our Ummah's eye. I would like to take this opportunity to wish success to all project implementing member countries and OIC organizations in their work.

While concluding my speech, I would like to thank all of you for your valuable participation and wish you success in your meetings.

Esselamu alaikum ve Rahmetullah.

May the Peace, Mercy and Blessing of Allah be Upon You.

MESSAGE OF H.E. MR. HISSEIN BRAHIM TAHA
SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE ORGANISATION OF ISLAMIC COOPERATION (OIC)

THIRTY EIGHT MEETING OF THE FOLLOW-UP
COMMITTEE OF THE COMCEC
(Ankara, 23-24 May 2022)

H.E. Mr. Rıdvan Ağaoğlu, Vice President of Presidency of Strategy And Budget, Presidency of the Republic of Türkiye,

Your Excellencies, Heads of Delegations,

Distinguished Ladies and Gentlemen,

Assalamu Aleykum wa-Rahmatullahi wa-Barakatuhu.

It is indeed a great pleasure, for me to address the 38th Follow-up Committee Meeting of the OIC Standing Committee for Economic and Commercial Cooperation (COMCEC). Allow me to, first and foremost, express my deepest appreciation to the Government of the Republic of Turkey and the COMCEC Coordination Office for the excellent arrangements made for the success of our today's meeting.

As you all know, our Member States are still witnessing unprecedented global health, economic and humanitarian crisis caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, which has disrupted billions of lives and is threatening to undo decades of socioeconomic development. Further, before the OIC Member States, and indeed the whole world, could find clear pathways out of the disruptions caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, the Russia-Ukraine conflict erupted further complicating efforts towards economic recovery and healing of the world. The disruptions in the food supply system caused by the Russia-Ukraine conflict has hurt the food security of many OIC Member States and pushed many countries to the brink of internal civil unrest.

Excellencies, Ladies and Gentlemen,

Our Member States, and indeed the whole world, are going through tough times. For many, economies have been disrupted, food supplies strained, unemployment is at record high, the number of children living on the streets is increasing, health systems stretched beyond capacity, school dropouts are on the rise, the majority of rural people continue to lack the basic facilities of life, and the existing infrastructural facilities are less than adequate. Further, conflicts and natural disasters occasioned by climate change have given rise to millions of refugees and internally displaced persons in many OIC Member States, exacerbating an already fragile situation. Amidst all these challenges, the population of Member States is growing at an average rate of 1.9 % per annum, with the population of OIC Member States project to reach 2.9 billion people by 2050. Suffice it to add, that a significant proportion of the people in OIC Member States (51 %) are young people below the age of 25 years, the majority of whom are not working or employed.

Given the challenges listed above and many others not mentioned, for OIC Member States to have quick economic recovery from these challenges and guarantee themselves a better future, we need to focus on the following:

1. Increase cooperation and collaboration among Member States and institutions in all sectors;
2. Invest more in critical sectors like agriculture and industries;
3. Implement the OIC-2025: Programme of Action, and mainstream its strategies in the national development strategies of Member States;
4. Build synergies between the OIC financial and technology-rich countries with those that have natural resources but lack finances and technology to exploit them.
5. Implement all the OIC initiatives aimed at promoting Intra-OIC trade and cooperation. These, among others, included:
 - Preferential Tariff System among the OIC Member States;
 - Strategic Roadmap for Development of Islamic Tourism;
 - Regular organization of the OIC trade and tourism fairs.

As part of the efforts to boost economic recovery and foster economic cooperation among member States, several activities are planned as enumerated in my Report. They include the OIC Investment Forum in Africa that is meant to highlight the great investment opportunities in Africa; the OIC private Sector Forum, due to take place in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, which will reemphasise the central role of the Private sector in the economies of Member States. The 11th Session of the Islamic Conference of Tourism Ministers will be held in Baku, Republic of Azerbaijan, on 27th - 29th June 2022. This ministerial level meeting is important for sharing the experiences of the OIC countries to mitigate the impact of the Pandemic and come-up with the recommendations to speed-up the recovery process of the tourism sector during the post-pandemic era. Member States are encourage to also attend the following trade promotion activities:

- 17th OIC Trade Fair, to be held in Dakar, Senegal, on 13th -18 June 2022;
- 2nd OIC Cotton, Textiles and Clothing Expo, to be held in Abidjan, on 26th June – 15 July 2022.

In addition, I wish to mention that the relevant OIC institutions namely, IsDB Group, SESRIC, ICDT, ISF, COMCEC Coordination Office, IOFS, SMIIC and ICCIA have implemented several development and promotional projects, training and capacity building programmes on various economic aspects for the benefit of our countries. As we thank them for the great accomplishments so far made, we urge them to do more especially in uplifting the welfare of the vulnerable groups and the rural poor people in our Member States.

However, the intra-OIC cooperation becomes ever more needed not only to mitigate the impact of COVID-19 pandemic but also to establish effective policies and measures to speed-up the recovery process and attain sustainable socio-economic development. Similarly, stronger international coordination and cooperation is also required to address the inequality of social and economic conditions during the recovery from COVID-19 and beyond, and to pave the way for a more balanced, inclusive, and sustainable development.

Accordingly, the OIC General Secretariat and its relevant institutions will continue to work closely with its member states to further a collaborative response to facilitate economic recovery in our countries. I wish therefore to express my sincere appreciation to the relevant OIC institutions, which have continued to collaborate with the General Secretariat for the execution of the various projects under the socio-economic agenda of the OIC.

I wish you a very successful meeting and look forward to the outcome of your deliberations.

Wassalamu Alaykum wa-Rahmatullahi wa-Barakatihu.

Esteemed Delegates,

We have successfully concluded the 38th Follow-up Committee Meeting of the COMCEC. I would like to express my sincere gratitude for the active participation of all delegations and their valuable contributions to the deliberations. During the Meeting, we had the opportunity to review various cooperation issues and new initiatives that are important for our countries within the scope of COMCEC. In addition, we created the agenda of the 38th COMCEC Ministerial Session.

Esteemed Guests,

As we come to the end of the meeting, I do not intend to make a long speech and tire you. However, I would like to re-emphasize the main purpose around which we have come together under the umbrella of COMCEC.

With technological progress, we are experiencing rapid developments in all areas of life and we are becoming more and more integrated with each other. Thus, a development in one country or region can affect countries in other parts of the world. We felt the most obvious example of this with the COVID-19 pandemic, and we paid the price with heavy loss of life and economic damage as a whole humanity. Another example is the price shock in energy resources such as oil and natural gas and many agricultural products, caused by the political developments in our nearby geography.

In order to develop tools against such negativities, I think we should make maximum use of the advantages provided by cooperation platforms such as COMCEC. We can develop mechanisms that can produce tangible benefits for our countries in addressing the difficulties experienced in many sectors on a global scale. In addition, we can take steps to prevent the formation of potential problem areas for almost every sector with an intense experience sharing among our member countries. In order to achieve this, it is important that we improve our ability to work together and we implement capacity-building programs.

In this context, I would like to briefly touch upon some of the important issues discussed during the Meeting.

As stated in the deliberations, this year we will witness an important turning point regarding the TPS-OIC, which is the most concrete output of our economic and commercial cooperation efforts in line with the main mission of the COMCEC. We believe that this preferential trade system, which will be implemented as of July 1st, will form an important basis for further increase in intra-OIC trade. Of course, as the number of countries party to the System increases, we will feel the effect of this more clearly. In this respect, we invite once again the Member Countries, which are not yet parties, to become a party to the System to reap the fruits of this important trade mechanism.

I also hope that the business world in our member countries will show interest in the international investment fund, which was developed within the scope of another important initiative, the OIC/COMCEC 50 Sharia Index, and became investable at the latest stage.

In order to increase the recognition of the OIC Arbitration Center, which is another important project of COMCEC, and to enable it to become a widely preferred arbitration center, the sincere support of all of us as the member states and organizations of the OIC family is required.

On the other hand, I would also like to stress the importance of the projects implemented under the COMCEC Project Funding, the COMCEC COVID Response (CCR) and COMCEC Al-Quds Program. While addressing the needs of the Member Countries these project funding mechanisms of the COMCEC also serves for capacity building and experience sharing efforts in our countries. Therefore, I consider these mechanisms as important cooperation tools contributing to improvement of human capital and institutional capacities. I wish every success to all partners in the implementation the projects under these programs.

Esteemed Guests,

Before concluding my words, I would like to thank all the Members of the Follow-Up Committee, the OIC General Secretariat, SESRIC, ICDT, ICCIA, SMIIC, ITFC, ICIEC and ICD for their participation and valuable contributions to the meeting. I would also like to thank our colleagues in the COMCEC Coordination Office, all technical and administrative staff, interpreters, revisers and translators for their untiring efforts which helped us to render this meeting a real success.

I hope to meet you again at the 38th COMCEC Ministerial Session to be held in November, Insha'Allah, and I wish you a healthy, peaceful and successful life from Allah the Almighty.

Thank you.

Esselamu alaikum ve Rahmetullah.
